Rothwell Construction adds Bob Richards and Jeff Vanderpool as Partners

Blue Springs, MO – April 27, 2009 - Rothwell Construction, (a commercial general contracting firm), recently announced the addition of two new executives to the corporation's management team.

Rothwell Construction, Inc. has named Bob Richards and Jeff Vanderpool to its company as Senior Project Managers and Partners to the firm. Before joining the company each had spent over 15 years as project managers with Lenexa, KS based Miller~Stauch Construction, Inc.

Combined, Richards and Vanderpool bring over 60 years of experience in coordinating and managing multi-disciplinary projects to the company. Their experiences feature a wide array of completed projects in both the private and public sector. They each bring a diverse background in the construction of retail, health care, manufacturing, and office facilities, which will be a great addition to the firm's expertise.

"We're very excited to have such qualified and successful leaders as a part of our team," said Preston Rothwell, President. Having worked together in the past, the aspect of bringing together a known working relationship was a great plus. "Bob and Jeff bring years of experience to the table, as well as the organizational and motivational skills needed to lead us into the future."

Rothwell Construction, Inc. is a complete general contracting firm that specializes in the management of complex commercial construction projects. The company offers a wide variety of pre-construction and construction management services, as well as complete turnkey construction services.
